VOL 26. BLOOMSBURG PA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1891. NO. 41

A steam laundry is talked of in Bloomsburg It ought to pay.

C. H. Reichart lost one of his fine gray horses last week.

Secure tickets for Y. M. C. A. lecture Course at Dentler's.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McKelvy returned home last week Wednesday.

The tenth number of Trinity Tidings was issued this week. It is an interesting number.

S. F. Peacock & Co. have laid a concrete pavement on the Market street side of their hardware store.

A cold rain fall began Wednesday morning. It cast a chill upon the managers of the Benton, Danville and Hughesville fairs.

By reason of the death of Jno. F. Peacock, F. D. Dentler will have entire charge of the management of the Opera House during this winter.

A grand new mammoth drama entitled "The Golden Nugget," will appear at the Opera House, Bloomsburg, Thursday of next week, October 15.

The Benton Fair is in progress this week. If the weather continues favorable the attendance will be large. Special trains are run on the B. & S.

Lemuel Drake, proprietor of the Exchange Hotel, at Benton, has been in feeble health tor several weeks. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

The Bloomsburg Council of the Royal Arcanum was organized six years ago, and the death of John F. Peacock was the first loss in the membership.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chrisman will entertain the teachers and directors of the Bloomsburg Public schools at their home on First street, Saturday evening from five o'clock to nine.

Guy Rawlings has completed his apprenticeship in J. G. Wells' jewelry store, and has accepted a position in Connecticut where he will go next week.

Steam heat was turned on October 1st, but owing to a break at Main and Market streets it was shut off. As the weather moderated, no one was inconvenienced. It is now in full operation.

A cow belonging to Dr. W. H. House swallowed an apple, which lodged in its throat. Z. Shultz performed an operation, cutting the apple out from the outside, and the cow is recovering.

The pastor of the Lutheran church will talk of the Ten Commandments consecutively and preach on them on Sabbath evenings, beginning with next Sunday evening. Every one interested to know to what extent the decalogue is binding on us, will find much profit in listening to these sermons.

The improvements made at the Fair Grounds again this year only go to show the continued growth and popularity of the Columbia County Fair. The dining hall has been enlarged. Additional stables have been erected and this week electric light will be put in.

The public schools of Bloomsburg will be closed Thursday and Friday of next week. There is such an irregular attendance at the schools during the fair week, that the board of directors think it best to close the schools, and thus let all attend the fair who desire.

Rev. Isaiah Edwards died at his home, corner of Poplar and Eighth streets on Tuesday, at noon, He had been in feeble health for some years, and was obliged to relinquish his active duties as a minister of the M. E. Church on that account, though he occasionally filled pulpits in this vicinity. For a time he resided in Florida and returned here about three years ago, and engaged in the insurance business. He leaves a wife and several children. The funeral took place on Thursday.

The funeral of B. F. Savits, on Sunday afternoon was one of the largest that has taken place in Bloomsburg for many years. It was attended by the Friendship Fire Company, Theta Castle Knights of the Golden Eagle, and the American Mechanics, the first two in uniform, and the latter body wearing black silk hats. The procession extended from the Exchange Hotel to Iron street, in ranks of four. The Lutheran church was filled to overflowing, many people being unable to get in. The services were conducted by Revs. Heilman and Auman. There were a number of beautiful floral offerings.

NOTES FROM ESPY.

The corner stone of the Evangelical Church of Espy was laid on last Sunday afternoon.

We are informed that there was a sly wedding at the Lutheran parsonage last Saturday evening. Who was it?

Mrs. Mirtie Shaffer, wife of Wm. A. Shaffer, Espy, departed this life on the 4th instant, after several weeks of suffering from typhoid fever. Her funeral services were held on the 6th, at 2 p. m., Rev. A. R. Glaze officiating. Her age was 20 yrs., 1 mo., 5 days. She leaves her young husband with a child but 6 months old to mourn her early departure.

Christopher Kuster of New Columbia, born July 15th, 1818, near Eisenach, Germany, and well known in this community as an honest, upright, christian gentleman, departed this life on the 2nd instant at the ripe old age of 73 yrs., 3 mo. and 17 days. His funeral services were held on Monday. Rev. E. Sharetts of Fowlersville preached the sermon. He was assisted in the services by the pastor, Rev. Glaze.

The North-Branch Conference, held in Christ's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Buckhorn, on the 28th, 29th and 30th of September was a grand success. The attendance upon all sessions was very good, and all the addresses by the brethren were well received because they had been thoroughly prepared and delivered in an animated style, calculated to do much good. We hope to see the good fruits in the future.

EAST BENTON.

Reuben Gibbons is in possession of an apple that measures 13 inches in circumference and weighs just one pound avoirdupois.

The buckwheat is nearly all threshed and is a fine crop.

The cider presses were never so busily engaged as this season. There will be an abundance of cider as the apples are exceedingly juicy.

Never in the history of our recollection was the forest foliage so luxuriant and profuse at this season of the year as at the present. Scarcely any signs of the approach of falling leaves.

The peach season is over and the people have made good use of the crop.

Bowman Crawford and Harman Stine were on a fishing excursion last week. They captured about 40 bass. How large, how small we cannot tell. The frying pan betrayed neither taste nor smell.

The Mutual Guarantee Building and Loan Association (of Philadelphia, Pa., and Camden, N. J.) last Friday evening organized here a local Board of Directors, as follows: President, B. F. Sharpless; Vice President, Geo. A. Herring; Secretary, R. H. Ringler; Attorney, J. B. Robison; Treasurer, Frank Ikeler; and other Directors, Dr. H. W. McReynolds, Thomas Gorey, and Dr. I. W. Willits. the last named being the Medical Examiner under the insurance feature connected with Association. This Association is in its central management and its local Boards composed of good business men and stands well in Philadelphia, the home of Building Associations. It has some features about it that are new to us.

The investor or borrower can insure the full par value of their investment, or the cancellation of their loan, in case of death before maturity of the shares through a life insurance policy. The funds of the Society are abundantly secured by being paid to the local Treasurer, and by him are sent to the Land and Title Trust Company of Philadelphia, one of the soundest financial institutions in that city. From thence they are checked out directly to the borrower on the execution of the necessary securities.

This institution supplies a great want in Bloomsburg for those who want to build houses or make good investments, and will, no doubt, receive a good patronage. The integrity of the Board selected here needs no commendation from us.

All patrons of the Fair next week will be allowed the free use of the telephone to any point in the county, and the usual Exchange charge for any point out of the county. The 'phone can be found in the president's and secretary's office at main entrance.

The body of Mrs. Lynch was brought from Kingston to this town for interment on Wednesday noon. She was formerly Mrs. Joseph Snyder of Rupert. The remains were taken to the cemetery, where brief services were conducted by Rev. S. W. Sears.

E. Jacobs & Son have put a new bread wagon on the road.

JOHN F. PEACOCK.

The community was startled on Sunday morning, on learning of the death of John F. Peacock, which occurred on Saturday night at 11 o'clock. He had been unwell for only a few days, and his death was sudden and unexpected.

Mr. Peacock was the oldest son of the late William Peacock. He was married to Miss Therma Myers in 1879 and four children are the fruit of the union. For a number of years he was Teller of the Bloomsburg Banking Company. On resigning that position he became identified with the firm of S. F. Peacock & Co. He was a member of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, and also of the Royal Arcanum, having a life insurance of $3,000 in the latter order. Both bodies attended the funeral on Tuesday at one o'clock. Services were held at the house, and were conducted by Rev. S. W. Sears of the M. E. Church and Rev E. H. Yocum, of Danville. At the grave the ritual of the Royal Arcanum was read. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes.

Mr. Peacock was nearly thirty six years of age. He leaves many friends who will miss him, and his family has the sympathy of the community in their affliction.

THE PRESBYTERY OF NORTHUMBERLAND.

This Ecclesiastical body met in the Presbyterian church of Bloomsburg on Monday evening. It was opened with a sermon by the Rev. Dr. R. H. Davis of Orangeville. The Rev. C. E. Austin of Lewisburg was elected moderator to serve for the ensuing six months.

The most important matter engaged the attention of the Presbytery was the report of a committee on the revision of the confession of Faith. The recomendation of this committee, of which Dr. Stewart Mitchell was chairman, were generally accepted as wise, and were adopted by the Presbytery.

They will be forwarded to the Revision committee of the General Assembly as embodying their views, and will no doubt receive respectful attention in the final report to the Presbyteries.

After the general routine work, which always comes before such bodies in their care for the several churches, the Presbytery adjourned on Wednesday afternoon to meet in the First Church in Shamokin in April.

Twenty-seven ministers and twenty-six elders were in attendance. They were entertained by the congregation, and expressed their appreciation of the hospitality which they received. The session was exceedingly pleasant and will no doubt leave a good impression on the community for its dignity and christian earnestness in its work, whilst the families which entertained them will hold it in pleasant rememberance.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

The committee appointed in regular session of Theta Castle No. 276, K. G. E., Tuesday Oct. 6, 1891, adopted the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Death has taken from our midst our beloved brothers and co-workers, Benjamin F. Savits and John F. Peacock, and

WHEREAS, we recognize in them good husbands, kind fathers and upright citizens, be it

Resolved, That Theta Castle No. 276 unites in regret with the bereaved families of these our deceased brothers, and express its sincere sorrow in their loss, and as members in this body, therefore, be it further

Death of an Old Lady.

Sarah Funston Clark, relict of the late James Clark, died at her home in this place on Thursday morning last about 1 o'clock after an invalidism of about eight months. The funeral took place on Saturday at one o'clock p. m., interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Rev. Leverett, of Bloomsburg, officiating. The services were largely attended by the friends.

Deceased was born in Jerseytown on Sept. 2nd, 1801; was married to James Clark at that place in 1823, and came to this town two years later, where she has resided ever since in the same house in which they began housekeeping. Up till within about eight months of her death her health was remarkably good, since then she failed rapidly, her sight being considerably affected. She retained her consciousness up to the time of death. H. J. Clark, Bloomsburg, G. W. Clark, Catawissa, sons, survive her, and a niece, Miss Sadie Vantassel, had made her home with deceased.

Mrs. Clark was, with one exception, the oldest person in town, and was the oldest continuous resident. The present generation were not very well acquainted with her, but the older inhabitants have the most pleasant recollections of her. She was a pleasant conversationalist and those favored with her confidence were greatly entertained by her stories of life during the early part of the century.—Catawissa News Item.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

WHEREAS: It has pleased our ever kind and indulgent Heavenly Father, in his unerring wisdom and goodness to enter our company and call from our midst one of our beloved and most active members. Therefore be it

Resolved: That while we so deeply feel our loss we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved: That in the death of our member B. F. Savits the Friendship Fire Company has lost one of their most active and hardest working members who always worked for the best interest of both Company and Citizens.

Resolved: That these resolutions be placed on our minutes and a copy be given to the bereaved family, and also to our Town papers for publication.

On Monday last the Supreme Court handed down an opinion in the case of J. W. Hoffman vs. B. & S. R. R. Co. in which they reverse the finding of the Columbia county court. The suit was for damages in going through the farm and mill property of the plaintiff and the verdict was $4075.50. We are not informed on what ground the reversal was based.

Extensive alterations and repairs are being made in Cummings & Verdy's store. Besides the new front, the partition in the rear has been removed, thus enlarging the room considerably. Paper and paint, and new shelving have entirely changed the interior, and when all is completed they will have a very nice store.

G. E. Moyer and wife of Williamsport have taken up their abode in Bloomsburg. Mr. Moyer has been engaged by J. G. Wells, the jeweler, and expects to make this his home for a season. He is a first-class mechanic, having served several years in the leading jewelry establishment in Williamsport. Mr. Wells is fortunate in securing such a mechanic.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

WHEREAS, the All Wise and benficient Ruler of the Universe has in his Providence taken fron our midst our late Brother Benj. F. Savits and

WHEREAS, our deceased brother has for a number of years been a constant and active member of the order of United American Mechanics therefore

Resolved.—That we his immediate associates and brothers of Bloomsburg Council No. 146 O. U. A. M. feel most keenly our loss. In his death the community is deprived of an earnest faithful and intelligent worker, ever ready to serve where labor was to be performed. Posessed of a kiud sympathetic disposition, he commanded the respect of all who knew him.

Resolved.—That we tender to the family of the deceased our heartfelt sympathy, in this their hour of deep affliction.

Resolved.—That our Council Chamber Emblems and Charter be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days.

Resolved.—That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our late brother under seal and also be printed in the three papers published in Bloomsburg.

Fell From a Chestnut Tree

A sad accident befell James Monaghan, a lad of 13 years, residing near Centralia, last week. He started out at 9 o'clock to go chestnuting with several companions. When they reached the mountains where the chestnut trees were numerous, young Monaghan climbed to the top of one and was engaged in pulling in a branch when he slipped and fell to the bottom. He fell on his side, crushing in his ribs. Two of them were forced into his lungs and he is now lying in a precarious condition.

Five fairs are in operation this week in this section, viz. Danville, Benton, Hughesville, Forksville and Lewisburg. The rain on Wednesday was a dampener, and it is to be hoped that the remaining days will be clear.

THE SOCIABLE.

At the sociable down to
The new parsonage there won't
Be any great shakes to do—
Nothing much to see; there
Likely 'll be a crowd on hand
Stacks o' teams hitched out in front.
Seeing it's to the parson's; and
Sary Pratt 'll be there.

Whole thing 'll be kind o' tame.
Things 'll warm up tol'ble slow;
Somebody 'll start up a game
O' something, to begin it—
Spat 'em out the room, or such:
Play charades; have a tableaux:
'T won't amount to nothing much;
Sary, she'll be in it.

S'pose we'll have to hear a lot
'Bout the parsonage—how it
Ain't fixed up none. Like as not
Deacon Judd, he'll sorter
Scheme to pass the plate to buy
Paint for the woodshed or git
Shingles. Sary 'll boast it. I
S'pose I'll give a quarter.

Some the girls 'll play a spell
On the organ—them that take
Lessons. And byme by we'll smell
The warm sugar kittles
Heating up, and likely we'll
Have hot biscuit and some cake
And beet pickles. Sary, she'll
Help pass 'round the victuals.

Fin'ly all the boys 'll troop
Out pell mell and git in line
'Long the side o' the front stoop
In the dark—won't nary
Feller strike the wrong girl, though,
And the stars 'll blink and shine,
Strolling 'long home middling slow,
I'll walk home with Sary.

—Emma A. Opper, in Judge.

A MOTHER IN LAW.

"I wouldn't have believed it of you, Rachel," said Mrs. Edmonstone plaintively. "No, I wouldn't, not unless Betsy Tacker had told me; and Betsy, she never told a lie no more than George Washington did."

"Why, mother, what are you talking about?" questioned Mrs. Thomas Edmonstone, untying the elder lady's bonnet strings and relieving her of a splint basket, a black silk bag, a waterproof cloak, and an umbrella.

"And I've come to see if it's true," added the old lady.

"If what's true, mother?"

"That you said you wished there wasn't no such person as m-me!" faltered Mrs. Edmonstone.

"Mother, you know I never could have said such a thing!" cried Rachel.

"Well, it wasn't exactly that; but Betsy Tacker heard you say you wished there was no such a thing as a mother in law."

"Oh," cried Rachel, with a hysterical little laugh, "I plead guilty! I did say that. But it was under such strong provocation, and I never meant you. How could I, when you have always been so good to me?"

"I knew it couldn't be true," said Mrs. Edmonstone, settling herself in the easiest rocking chair and nodding her cap strings comfortably. "But how came you to make that ex-tra-or-dinary speech, Rachel, about mother in law in general?"

"It was Tom," said the wife. "He was so aggravating!"

"Thomas always was aggravating," said Mrs. Edmonstone, stirring the cup of tea that Rachel had brought her. "What was it about now? The breakfast cakes?"

"Oh, you remember about the breakfast cakes, don't you?" said Rachel, with merry mischief sparkling in her eyes. "No; it wasn't the breakfast cakes this time; it was the shirts."

"The shirts?"

"Well, you know he said it was such a wasteful, extravagant proceeding to buy shirts ready made," explained Rachel. "He said the linen was poor, and the work regular slop shop style, and he declared you always used to make his shirts at home, every stitch, before he was married."

"So I did," acknowledged Mrs. Edmonstone, with a groan. "But that was in the old times, before you could buy such a good article as they have now."

"Yes, but Tom doesn't make any allowance for difference in times and customs," sighed Rachel. "He wanted homemade shirts, and homemade shirts he would have!"

"And you made 'em?"

"Yes, I made them."

"You were a great goose," reflectively spoke Mrs. Edmonstone.

"And—and Tom swore dreadfully the first time he put one on——"

"I don't in the least doubt it."

"And he said they set like meal bags, and that they twisted his neck around as if he had just been hanged, and grasped him on the shoulders like a policeman! Oh, I can't tell you what he didn't say!"

"Bless me!" said Mrs. Edmonstone.

"He told me his mother's shirts set like a glove, and fitted him perfectly—and why could I not turn out a shirt like those? And it was then, mother dear," suddenly flinging her arms around the old lady's plump, comfortable neck, "that I lost my head, and told him I wished there wasn't such a thing as a mother in law in the world! And Betsy Tacker sat in the sewing room altering over my dolman in the spring style, and I suppose she must have heard me."

"Don't mind it, my dear," said Mrs. Edmonstone.

"No, I won't," protested Rachel. "But, oh, those shirts! I've been ripping them apart and sewing them together again, and rounding off a gusset here, and taking in a plait there, until I have got so that I dream of them at night; and the more I try them on the worse they fit, and the more unreasonable does Tom become. 'My mother never made such work of it as this!' he says."

"Thomas forgets," observed Mrs. Edmonstone severely.

"And I am sure, if things go on like this," added Rachel, pushing her short brown curls off her forehead, "it will end in a separation on account of 'incompatibility of temper.'"

"No, it won't, my dear," said the mother in law. "Here, get me the pattern and some shirting muslin, and a pair of scissors."

"What are you going to do, mother?" eagerly questioned Rachel.

"I'm going to make Tom a shirt. But don't you tell him, Rachel. We'll see whether it is Tom or the pattern that has altered."

Once more the mischievous light came into Rachel's bright blue eyes.

"I wish all the world were mothers in law!" she cried gleefully. "Why didn't I think of this before?"

"One can't think of everything, child," said Mrs. Edmonstone consolingly.

Thomas Edmonstone welcomed his mother cordially when he came home from business.

"I'm so glad you've come!" said he. "We can have some of the nice old fashioned dishes now. Rachel can't seem to get the hang of them, although she has always had your book of recipes to guide her."

"Rachel's a great deal better cook than ever I pretended to be," said Mrs. Edmonstone. "They have patent egg beaters and cream whippers and raisin seeders, and all that sort of thing now, that they didn't have in my day. I never tasted nicer bread than Rachel makes, and these popovers are delicious."

"You're just saying that to encourage Rachel," said Mr. Edmonstone, with an incredulous smile. "Things will run smooth now you've come. That is one comfort."

"Oh, I shouldn't think of interfering in Rachel's kitchen," said the old lady.

"Please, do, mother," coaxed the wife, not without a certain quiver in her lip. "Do let Tom have a reminiscence of the old days while you are here."

"Well, just as you children say," conceded the mother in law, good humoredly.

She remained a week at her son's house, during which period of time Tom was all exultant complacency.

"This," said he, "is something like living. I feel myself a boy again when I taste these apple fritters."

"They're not bad," said Rachel, who had made them with her own skillful hands. And she helped herself to a little of the sauce.

"And why didn't you learn my mother's knack of making such pie crust as this?" demanded Tom. "There's no dyspepsia here."

"I'm glad you're pleased," said Rachel, with a guilty glance at her mother in law. "Oh, by the way, Tom, the last of the set of shirts is finished now! Will you put it on to-morrow?"

"I suppose so," ungraciously uttered Tom. "Will set like fury, I dare say, like all the rest of them!"

"You might at least give it a trial."

"Didn't I say I would?" still more ungraciously. "Those shirts will be the death of me yet," he added, turning to his mother with a groan, while Rachel sat steadily observing the pattern of the tablecloth.

The breakfast stood smoking on the table next morning when Mr. Edmonstone came into the room twisting himself as if he were practicing to be a human corkscrew. Mrs. Edmonstone timidly glanced up at him.

"Doesn't it fit, Tom?" she questioned.

"Fit! Just look at it, will you?" he retorted. "Fit! Hangs like a window curtain around my neck—pinches my wrists like a pair of handcuffs! I feel as if I were in a straight jacket," writhing impatiently to and fro. "Oh, I might have known it beforehand. You have'nt an idea what the word fit means. I wish, mother, you could teach this wife of mine how to make a decent shirt!"

"Thomas," said Mrs. Edmonstone, solemnly, transfixing him with the glistening spheres of her spectacle glasses, "you are not very polite. I made that shirt."

"You, mother!"

"Yes, I myself. Just as I used to make shirts for you in the old times that you're always sighing for. I've been working at it ever since I've been in the house. Throw away the pattern, Rachel, and don't waste any more time trying to make your husband's shirts," she added. "It's an economy of time and temper, as well as of money, to buy them ready made. And as for the cooking you have been praising up so eloquently of late, Tom, I haven't touched a pot or a pan. It's all your wife's work. So much for imagination! Oh, you needn't hang your head so sheepishly; you're neither better nor worse than most men. I never saw the man yet that didn't need to hear a little wholesome truth now and then. You've got the best and sweetest little wife in the world."

"Mother!" pleaded Rachel, trying to put her hand over the old lady's mouth; but Mrs. Edmonstone went on——

"And it's my advice to you to try and treat her as she deserves."

"I—I don't know but I have been rather cranky of late, now that I come to think of it," said Tom, self accusingly.

"Crank! I should think so," said the old lady. "I'm sure I don't know what the world's coming to. Here's little Georgy toddling around with his wooden cart. The first you know he'll be telling his wife about the wonderful successes his mother used to make in this, that, and the other thing."

"And Georgy will be right," said Tom, who, after all, had a magnanimous streak through him. "What a crab I've been! Hang the homemade shirts! I'll buy 'em next time. Kiss me, Rachel. And be sure you let me have a dish of scalloped oysters when I come to dinner."

The oysters Rachel cooked.

He ate his breakfast and departed. And when he was gone young Mrs. Edmonstone looked with shining eyes at old Mrs. Edmonstone.

"Oh, what a nice thing it is to have a mother in law!" said she fervently.

The classification of the character of the immigration during the last decade shows that only 26,257 males were of the professional classes, 514,552 were skilled laborers, 1,833,325 were of micellaneous occupations, 73,327 made no statement in regard to occupation, and 759,450 were without occupation. Of the 2,040,702 females 1,724,454 were without occupation.

A WONDERFUL CAVE.

A REMARKABLE CAVERN THAT RIVALS THAT OF KENTUCKY.

Toilsome Explorations Through Many Miles of Corridors—Chambers Filled With Beautiful and Curious Formations.

The San Francisco Examiner sent out a party to examine the great cave which recent advices stated has been discovered in Oregon.

The cave is situated in Josephine county, about 12 miles north of the California line and 40 miles from the coast.

The Examiner party were two days in reaching the cave. Says its correspondent:

The main opening, from which the creek flows, was the first entered. For a dozen feet only could you stand upright. But, almost double, we pushed on, up to our ankles in swiftly flowing water cold as ice. Thirty feet from the mouth the daylight was no longer visible, and there the cavern was large again and the passage was divided. A great bowlder, caught midway between the walls, made an upper and a lower corridor. To the left a great hole gaped, and on the right the floor broke off abruptly in a grinning crack.

The left hand passage was the only one that did not lead to a long series of rooms, and it was the largest opening of the four. Stooping under a great rock that jutted from the wall, the first of the party found himself in an octagonal chamber a dozen feet high and as much in diameter. It was a two story room. Half way to the ceiling a comparatively thin sheet of rock made a ceiling for the lower room and a floor for the upper. There were bones in these rooms of deer and smaller animals, and there were other indications that it was or had been the den of some flesh eating beast, probably a bear.

The last man in the party had in his pocket a ball of twine. One end of the twine was fast to a rock at the mouth of the cave, and as they walked forward the line unwound.

As we clambered through the narrow passages, wonder struck at their fantastic pendants and projections, that looked even more grotesque in the light of the flaming torches, we forgot that we were cold and wet and tired. Every step showed something stranger than had been passed. A lime incrusted bowlder, covered with fretwork delicate as hoar frost, loomed up against the intense blackness beyond—an enormous bear's head; glistening icicles were the teeth, and the whole picture savage. Even while the eye took in the features they changed, and instead of a fierce white bear's head there was only an irregular bowlder again.

In the distance, where the light barely reached, ugly black forms appeared. More than once the men suddenly halted when one of these black beasts moved, for in the weird, smoky light they seemed to move, though closer up they showed as simply openings into other branches of the crevasse.

Several very tempting openings were passed, but finally a particularly easy looking door was reached, turning to the right. It was not easy long. The roof got closer to the floor, and the walls came nearer and nearer together. We stooped, then we got on our hands and knees, then down flat. So half a dozen yards we had to wriggle and squirm along snakewise, our clothes catching on the brittle spikes and the fretted floor tearing our knees. It was exhausting work for a while, but at last the passage grew wider, and presently we were in a room where we could stand upright.

That was a wonderful place. Along either wall ran a low, flat bench of rock. In this bench were several depressions as distinct and sharp as though cut with a chisel. These depressions were only an inch or so deep, were perfectly rectangular and perfectly level. They were filled to the brim with water, and the white rock glistened through it beautifully. All around it was dry; no water dripping from above, none welling up from below. These squares of water reflected like looking glasses when the torches were held over them.

The "Mirror Room," this chamber was named, and there the first photograph was taken.

Many curious features were discovered in the cave. A great chamber, named the Dining Room because of a bench, was of rock with a level top that occupied one side of the room and looked more like a table than anything else, was the last of the easy traveling. From there a chimney barely wide enough to squeeze through went up at an angle of 60 degrees. A hundred yards of hard work brought us to large rooms and broad passages again. Rod after rod of stately columns, as regular and clear as freshly sculptured marble pillars, divide the rooms and increase the mystery of the great maze, and overhead a thousand glistening drops of water, each the apex of a brilliant white spear head, reflect the light of the glowing torches. Everywhere on the walls masses of shining lime, slowly deposited for ages, counterfeited the shapes of well known things.

Turning an abrupt corner of a cavern so high that the torches did not light to the roof of the magnificent dome, a great gaunt face sends chills down your back. You know, of course, that the malevolent eye is only a shadow, the mouth a fault in the gigantic stalactite, and the hoary beard simply another stalactite stained by a drop of iron that somehow has been washed down into the limestone cracks. But the face—the beard alone as long as a man—is uncanny, and as long as you can see the visage you have an uncomfortable feeling that the old man, who has been there as long as water and rocks have been, is watching you with no approving glance.

A waterfall 30 feet in height was discovered; also a beautiful little lake, with a surface as clear as a mirror.

Every day for a week the party went as far as they could into the mountain, and yet at the end of that time there seemed almost as much yet unexplored as had been gone over. Evidently Oregon has a great cave.

NEW ELECTION LAW.

CONTINUED.

SECTION 10. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of every county, at least ten days before any election to be held therein, except for township and borough officers, to give notice of the same by proclamations posted up in the most public places in every election district and by advertisements in at least two newspapers, if there be so many published in the county, representing so far as practicable, the political parties which at the preceding election cast the largest and next largest number of votes, and in every such proclamation or advertisement he shall,

I. Enumerate the officers to be elected and give a list of all the nominations, except for election officers and assessors made as provided in this act, and to be voted for in such county, as far as may be, in the form in which they shall appear upon the ballots, but the proclamations posted in each election district need not contain the names of any candidates but those to be voted for in such district.

II Designate the place at which the election is to be held.

III. He shall give notice that every person, excepting justices of the peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of profit or trust under the government of the United States or of this State or of any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or otherwise, a subordinate officer or agent who is or shall be employed under the Legislative, Executive or Judiciary department of this State or of the United States or of any city or incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress and of the State Legislature and of the select or common council of any city or commissioner of any incorporated district is, by law, incapable of holding or exercising at the same time the office or appointment of judge, inspector or clerk of any election of this Commonwealth, and that no inspector, judge or other officer of any such election shall be eligible to any office to be then voted for, except that of an election officer.

SECTION 11. In case of the death or withdrawal of any candidate nominated as herein provided, the party convention, primary meeting, caucus or board, or the citizens who nominated such candidate, may nominate a substitute in his place by filing in the proper office, at any time before the day of election, a nomination certificate or paper which shall conform to all the requirements of this act in regard to original certificates or papers: Provided, That if the said convention or citizens shall have authorized any committee to make nominations in the event of the death or withdrawal of candidates, the said convention shall not be required to re-convene nor the said citizens to sign a new nomination paper, but the said committee shall have power to file the requisite nomination certificate or paper, which shall recite the facts of the appointments and powers of the said committee, (naming all its members,) of the death or withdrawal of the candidate and of the action of the committee thereon, and the truth of these facts shall be verified by the affidavit annexed to the certificate or paper of two members of the committee, and also of at least two of the officers of the convention who made affidavit in support of the original certificate, or two of the citizens who made affidavit to the original paper: And provided also, That in case of a substituted nomination paper, not filed by a committee, but signed by citizens, it shall only be necessary that two-thirds of the signers of the said paper shall have been signers of the original paper.

SECTION 12. All substituted nomination certificates or papers may be objected to as provided in section seven of this act, and if a substituted certificate or paper be filed after the last day for filing the original certificate or paper, objections must be made within four days after the filing, and no objection as to form or conformity to law shall be received after the time set for printing the ballots.

As soon as any substituted candidate shall have been duly nominated, his name shall be substituted by the proper officers in the place of that of the candidate who has died or withdrawn, so far as time may allow, and in case a substituted nomination be filed with or transmitted to the county commissioners or township or borough auditors after the ballots have been printed, the said commissioners or auditors shall prepare and distribute with the ballots suitable slips of paper bearing the substituted name together with the title of the office, and having adhesive paste upon the reverse side which shall be offered to each voter with the regular ballot and may be fixed thereto.

SECTION 13. The county commissioners of each county shall cause all the ballots to be used therein to be printed, except for elections of officers of townships and boroughs and election officers and school directors in the same, the ballots for which shall be printed and distributed by the auditors who shall certify the cost of such printing and distribution to the county commissioners for payment as part of a county election expenses. The said commissioners and auditors shall ascertain the offices to be filled, and shall be responsible for the accurate printing of the ballots in accordance with this act and for the safekeeping of the same while in their possession or that of their subordinates or agents.

The Purest and Best.

Articles known to medical science are used in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla. Every ingredient is carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. The medicine is prepared under the supervision of thoroughly competent pharmacists, and every step in the process of manufacture is carefully watched with a view to securing in Hood's Sarsaparilla the best possible result.

POULTRY NOTES.

No. 33.

Don't compel the chicks to roost in a small badly ventilated coop these warm nights.

When feeding don't throw the feed down in one place. Scatter it far and near so every chick gets its share.

A well kept and well fed flock of poultry will pay a bigger profit than a pen of hogs. No matter how well the latter may be cared for.—Farm Journal.

It pays to push the young flocks. By feeding judiciously and the right kind of food and at the right time. Your cockerals will be ready for market and the pullets be ready for laying the sooner.

A smart old gander down south (says Farm Journal) has learned to turn the faucet of a cistern with his bill, and when the water begins to flow he sits down under the stream, flaps his wings, takes a bath and has a good time generally.

There is a right time to do everything and the right time to procure stock to improve your flock is in the fall, as it can be had cheaper, by waiting till spring they will be scarcer and naturally a higher price will have to be paid.

Malaria

Literally means bad air. Poisonous germs arising from low, marshy land, or from decaying vegetable matter, are breathed into the lungs, taken up by the blood, and unless the vital fluid is purified by the use of a good medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, the unfortunate victim is soon overpowered. Even in the more advanced cases, where the terrible fever prevails, this successful medicine has effected remarkable cures. Those who are exposed to malaria or other poisons should keep the blood pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

That Baby of Mine,

Auntie, three months ago had the salt rheum so bad that his head was a mass of sores, and I had begun to lose all hopes of raising him, but my druggist recommended Sulphur Bitters, and to-day he is as fat and chipper as any baby you ever saw, and he has not a sore on his head, and just think that after paying out so much, that a few dollars worth of Sulphur Bitters should cure him.—Mrs. J. C. Hall, Lowell.

In its November number the Cosmopolitan will publish a series of letters written by Gen. W. T. Sherman to one of his young daughters, between the years 1859 and 1865 and covering most of the important events of the war of secession. These letters present graphic pictures of a great soldier amid some of the stirring scenes in which he was a giant figure, and in them the patriotic spirit of the Federal general is seen to have been most attractively tempered by a strong affection for the Southern people. The fraternal feeling which glows in these letters is in refreshing contrast to the sectional bitterness which characterized the period, and they will constitute an interesting and important contribution to the literature of the war.

NO CENSORSHIP.

Justice Harlan Pays a Glowing Tribute to the Press.

Justice Harlan, of the supreme court of the United States, in a lecture before the Law College of the University of Wisconsin on "Constitutional Law," gave the following compliment to the press of the country:

"Nor shall congress make any laws abridging the freedom of the press." This is a wise provision. There are some men, stung to the quick by what they see in the newspapers, who would favor a law that would place the press of the country under a censorship.

Much may be said against the manner in which newspapers are often conducted, but I do not think that I overestimate their value when I say that we depend largely for our real protection in this country upon the vigilance of the press. It is almost impossible in this country, as long as the press is not muzzled, for corruption to hold sway for any great length of time. There are those who think that everything is going to pieces, that the nation is becoming as corrupt as all the nations of the earth, and they affect to think so because they see so many things in the newspapers. I want, however, to express the conviction that we are a good deal better off than we were fifty years ago. Not that I remember myself, but judging from what I have heard, we are not growing worse; we are getting better. The standard of public morality and virtue is higher than it was twenty-five years ago.

Our public men, whatever may be said to the contrary, in the congress of the United States are, in their moral character, a higher grade of men than were there twenty-five or fifty years ago. There are less vices among them. Old men, who remember what existed in Washington thirty or forty years ago, all say that. Now, I believe that a vast deal of this is due to the fact that the public press of this country is every day and every hour of our existence turning its light into the dark places, and ferreting out corruptions in their birth, and bringing before the people of this country that which they ought to know, and therefore I believe in this provision of the bill of rights.

The Country Newspaper.

If you have anything to sell that commands trade outside of your own city, use the country newspaper.

In the country newspaper you have a reliable and effective friend that does its mission at more family firesides than do many of the metropolitan dailies.

In the country weeklies the marriage bells toll more joyfully than in the great city papers, and when the columns of such a home paper tell us that some humble person has gone from the world we read with tears, for he was our neighbor and friend.

The country newspaper is not only a business guide, but it is a pulpit of morals for the entire community and county in which it is published. It is a kind of public rostrum where the affairs of state are considered; it is a supervisor of the streets and roads; it is a social friend, a promoter of friendship and good will.—Printers' Ink.

Hustling for News.

A great many people think a newspaper should have about a page of local news whether anything happens or not. Deluded mortals! Local editors cannot make people break their necks, commit suicide or do any of the other exciting things that go to make up the material out of which the local reporter delights to weave paragraphs. Furnishing domestic news when there is none is very much like extracting blood from a turnip. It is no more than fair that those who grumble at the lack of local news in their paper should stop and think whether they could not give the editor an item or two worth printing, and, if so, let them hold their peace or growl at their own remissness.

Hints to Correspondents.

Write on only one side of the paper.

Do not refer to people by their initials.

Be brief; do not abbreviate any words.

Avoid personal items as far as possible.

Write legibly, especially all proper names.

Get the news, the whole news and nothing but the news.

Do not write an item that will be understood by only a few of our readers.

Always sign your name, not necessarily for publication, but for the protection of the public.

Vindictive Correspondents.

Granting some people the privilege of contributing to the columns of a newspaper is very much like placing a stick in the hands of a small child. They immediately have an irresistible desire to hit somebody or break something. It is so convenient to sit comfortably at their own desk and bring down a ringing whack on some one's defenseless pate that they cannot forego trying the experiment.

Delinquent Subscribers Must Pay Up.

One of those unreasonable men who take a newspaper for a year or two and then send it back "refused" or "not wanted" was sued by a publisher in Michigan a short time ago, and the judge gave a verdict for the plaintiff of full amount and costs. The court decided that notice to discontinue was not sufficient if the subscriber was in arrears. He must pay first.

Can't Swindle Newspaper Readers.

It has been reliably ascertained that out of 185 cases of successful swindling throughout the state by traveling sharpers, in various ways, by which people of the rural districts were robbed, some to the extent of thousands of dollars, only nine or ten were subscribers or readers of the home county papers.

Axes to Grind.

"Why don't you give this fellow or that fellow fits?" "Why don't you touch up this or that concern?" These are questions addressed to the newspaper man by persons unable to fight their own battles.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all, eight bottles: it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at C. A. Kleim's Drug store, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

EVERY PATRIOT

should read a good newspaper. In the selection of a newspaper many considerations should govern. First, it should be one that endeavors to give all the news without prejudice. It should be neatly printed on good paper. It should be independent—in favor of all that is good, upright, clean. Such a newspaper is printed in Harrisburg. It is under new management—enlarged, handsome, bold in the right fearless in denouncing wrong; is always and unswervingly Democratic. It is the only Democratic newspaper at the State Capitol. It makes a specialty of Department News. It is the only paper in Central Pennsylvania that receives and prints full Associated Press Reports, obtained by it over its own wires. It presents each day Special Correspondence from all points tributary to Harrisburg, all the Harrisburg News Fashion Notes, Household Hints, Domestic Recipes, Society Gossip, Scientific, Humorous and Political Articles, Short Stories and Sketches. Its Market Reports are complete, both as to Finance and Commerce. Its Live Stock Markets are prepared specially for THE PATRIOT, and have only been successfully imitated by one other newspaper in the State. The Saturday Sermon of Rev. Dr. Spurgeon, of London, is a great feature.

THE PATRIOT wants the rascals turned out or locked up. To this end it heartily urges the election of Wright and Tilden as the only means to stop the plundering of the public treasury.

THE WEEKLY PATRIOT, 8 pages, is only $1 a year. It maintains the best features of the daily, including the Spurgeon Sermon. First take your home paper, then it. Send for circulars and sample copies (free) of either daily or weekly.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

BELVERNON, Pa., Nov. 27, '80.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Gents—I would like to make known to those who are almost persuaded to use Kendall's Spavin Cure the fact that I think it is a most excellent Liniment. I have used it on a Blood Spavin. The horse went on three legs for three years when I commenced to use your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I used ten bottles on the horse and have worked him for three years since and has not been lame.

Yours truly, WM. A. CURL.

GERMANTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Gents: In praise of Kendall's Spavin Cure I will say, that a year ago I had a valuable young horse become very lame, hock enlarged and swollen. The horsemen about here (we have no Veterinary Surgeon here) pronounced his lameness Blood Spavin or Thoroughpin, they all told me there was no cure for it, he became about useless, and I considered him almost worthless. A friend told me of the merits of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I bought a bottle, and I could see very plainly great improvements immediately from its use, and before the bottle was used up I was satisfied that it was doing him a great deal of good. I bought a second bottle and before it was used up my horse was cured and has been in the team doing heavy work all the season since last April, showing no more signs of it. I consider your Kendall's Spavin Cure a valuable medicine, and it should be in every stable in the land. Respectfully yours,

EUGENE DEWITT.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

GET OUT THE VOTE.

It is but three weeks from next Tuesday until election day. The election this year is the most important of any election. The people, by their ballots will select an Auditor General who will act upon the accounts of the State, and a State Treasurer, who pays out the funds and makes such investments as will guarantee absolute security. The recent exposure of the fraud perpetrated upon the peopleby Bardsley of Philadelphia, who was allowed to hold funds which the Auditor General should have collected, should arouse every voter, and not one remain away from the polls. Let the people consider well who they vote for, and what may be the result if the man for whom they cast their ballots should be elected. The democrats have nominated R. E. Wright of Lehigh county, for Auditor General, who is known for his honesty and fearlessness in doing the right. For State Treasurer they have nominated A. L. Tilden of Erie. The issue is drawn whether the people desire a continuation of the loose practices of the past, by which the state has lost millions of dollars, and taxation increased, or whether men shall be elected who will enforce the laws of the State. If all honest thinking people will go to the polls on the 3rd of November and cast their ballots, the result will be an overthrow of the present spoils system and an enforcement of the State laws. Go to the polls and vote and insist on your neighbors going with you. Do not let one stay at home.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. Oct., 7, 1891.

The recent developements in the State of Pennsylvania, the most important of which is the action of Governor Pattison in calling a special session of the Senate to investigate the scandals surrounding the fiscal and revenue departments of the Keystone State, and conduct of Thomas McCamant the Auditor-General, and Henry K. Boyer the Treasurer, have caused a great deal of talk and comment among the people in Washington. The Republican officials here, who are high in party councils, are being criticized in unmeasurable terms for assisting to keep Quay at the head of the party in Pennsylvania and thus maintaining Quay methods in the administration of affairs in the State. To say that the Republicans who have the best interests of the party at heart are thoroughly disgusted with the management of affairs in Pennsylvania by the corrupt gang in charge there now, is putting it very mildly. They are more than disgusted and they are mad, and hope that the rascally gang may be thoroughly exposed and punished for their misdoings, for the sake of saving the Republican party from going to pieces on the rocks for which Quay and his henchman are steering the party now.

All self-respecting and honest Republicans in Washington feel that it is not possible for the Republican party, under the leadership of Quay and the influences surrounding him, to avoid defeat in Pennsylvania this year. In fact, they are of the opinion that the defeat of the Republican party in Pennsylvania this year would be a God send. Defeat this year, they argue, would tend to purify politics in the State, and give the honest Republicans and independent voters an opportunity to win in the future. They say that the election of the Republican candidates for State Treasurer and Auditor-General this year will only perpetrate and strengthen Quay's power and endanger the party in the future. In the language of the New York Recorder, one of the strongest administration papers in the country, "Republicans everywhere are becoming ashamed of Pennsylvania because of the corruption existing in the party management."

When "Honest John" Bardsley, City Treasurer of Philadelphia, was arrested and convicted of embezzling several hundred thousand dollars of money intrusted to his care by the State, everybody was astounded. But when they learned that two of the highest State officials were as deep in the mire as Bardsley was in the mud, they threw up their hands in horror, and wanted to see the honor of the State restored. They want to see the corrupt gang punished and every honest Republican in Washington, if he had a vote in Pennsylvania, would cast his ballot against the machine ticket this fall. It is true the gentlemen who are now seeking the offices of Auditor-General and State Treasurer, are not charged with corruption. But are they not the creatures of the same gang that selected the present officials to office? If elected they dare not expose the rottenness now existing in the offices to which they aspire. The two candidates, Messrs. Gregg and Morrison, have pledged themselves to Quay to obey orders, and if elected (every honest Republican at the National Capital hope they will not) they will be the tools of the same gang who now control their predecessors, Messrs. McCamant and Boyer.

Voters of Pennsylvania, the whole country is waiting breathlessly for a just verdict, will you give it? It is earnestly hoped you will by defeating the Republican ticket and thus overthrowing Quayism and his corrupt followers.

B. R. W.

Delays are Dangerous.

There are those who are morbidly anxious about their health, watching every symptom and dosing themselves on the slightest provocation. There are others who never give the matter a thought, but permit real symptoms to lapse into the certainties of disease. Between these two extremes the wise man steers—never unduly anxious, and yet not permitting genuine symptoms to develop. He knows that delays are dangerous, and he knows, moreover, that the medicine most likely to be effective is that which goes straight to the seats of disease, and tones up the digestive organs, strengthens the system and purifies the blood. He takes a few doses of S. S. S., and soon finds that all the symptoms have disappeared, and that he is in a better condition than ever. The great vegetable remedy has no rival.

The Dilemma of the Bosses.

Day by day the situation with respect to the defrauded Treasury of the State of Pennsylvania, and the derelict conduct of the accounting officers of the State, grows more interesting. The publication in the public prints, of the correspondence of the Auditor General and the State Treasurer with the convict Treasurer of Philadelphia, was speedily followed by the proclamation of Governor Pattison calling a special session of the Senate to take action in the premises. Among all classes alike, without regard to party affiliations men who think, were convinced by a perusal of this correspondence that the accused officials were guilty of grossly improper conduct, although there might be a question as to whether the proof was sufficient to convict them of their misdoings in the courts of justice.

In striking contrast with the diplomatic conduct of District Attorney Graham and the Republican managers in Philadelphia who had original control of the case, is the conduct of the fearless Democratic Governor in applying the heroic remedy to this malady which has brought the body politic nigh unto death. The situation is extremely alarming to the Republican leaders of Pennsylvania. They control the Senate by a large majority. They may be able to delay investigation in the case and postpone and possibly avoid entirely, final action upon it, but the great tribunal of public opinion will pass judgment upon the party which they represent, and it will be no longer an individual or two who will be held responsible for the wrong, but the party itself will stand convicted of attempting to cover up the crimes of its representatives and to save itself at the expense of the public weal.

It is to be expected in this trying dilemma, the Republican managers will raise the cry that this is simply a piece of political clap trap on the part of Governor Pattison and his advisers, and that the special session is part of the political campaign now being waged by the Democratic party, but the fact still remains that Governor Pattison is too well known to the people of Pennsylvania for them to believe that unless he was convinced by a conscientious sense of his duty, and impelled to action by higher motives than those which inspire the partisan, he would have ever called into play the machinery of the office which he holds. Recognizing that the best interests of the people lay in this direction, he has not hesitated to act. Knowing the significant character of the evidence which has already been presented and is likely to be brought out, the defenders of the accounting officers of the commonwealth are already beginning to put in the plea of confession and avoidance. They can not help but admit that there has been gross negligence on the part of these officials, but they are charging that it has been the custom of the accounting officers, in the past, in this particular. But the law which has been laid down for the guidance of the Auditor general and State Treasurer is a plain one. It was the duty of the officers to see to it that no county official charged with the collection of the State funds, failed to report the amount collected by him quarterly, and to make payment to the Treasury of the State of all moneys in his hands on this account, quarterly or oftener if the accounting officer saw fit to demand it.

The friends of the State Treasurer are naturally very much incensed that he also has been included in the proclamation of the Governor, but no other consistent course lay open. The same law which applies to the Auditor General, applies to the State Treasurer. If the one was derelict in duty, the other has been so also. Herein lies a little history which dates back to that period in the financial affairs of Pennsylvania when the once powerful Mackay and Quay ring were first obtaining a foothold in political affairs. It was found convenient when the Auditor General of the State was not willing to be a party to all their schemes to devise legislation which gave to the State Treasurer equal powers with him, and so it was that as time went on, the State Treasurer came to have full power to compel settlements from county and other officials with that possessed by the Auditor General. These "chickens have come home to roost." It is unfortunate now that the State Treasurer has been clothed with equal power with the Auditor General, for it would be a most convenient way of escape for him to simply claim that he was but the custodian of the funds, and that the Auditor General was the collector.

Taken all in all, the Republicans are in a dreadful dilemma. Which horn they will seize, they are at a loss to determine. If they cast obstructions in the way of investigation, they will be crushed by the condemnation of the public. If they conclude to make a sacrifice of the Auditor General, they lose their political power. It remains to be seen what course in their wisdom they will pursue.

How to Make Money.

A man who is wise, careful, and conservative, energetic, persevering and tireless, need have no fear of his future, writes Henry Clews, the New York banker, in the October Ladies' Home Journal. But there is one other thing. He must have a steady head, one that can weather the rough sea of reverses from which no life is altogether free, and one that will not become too big when successes attend his efforts. Keep out of the way of speculators. Take your money, whether it be much or little, to one whose reputation will insure you good counsel. Invest your money where the principal is safe and you will get along But don't forget the acorns. It is from little acorns that great oaks grow. See that you begin aright early in life. Save your money with regularity. By so doing, you will more than save your money; you will make money.

WHAT IS

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Saltzer's booth will be one of the attractions at the fair next week.

When your blood is impoverished the remedy is at hand. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The Sunday School report sent us by A. W. Spear, Secretary of the Columbia county S. S. Association shows the following: Total number of schools in the county, 125; Officers and teachers, 1651; scholars, 10218.

When the Hair begins to come out in combing, it shows a weakness of the scalp that calls for immediate attention. The best preparation to arrest further loss of hair and restore the scalp to a healthy condition is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

UNION VETERANS TO MEET AT READING.

HALF RATE TICKETS ON THE P & R.

The National Encampment of the Union Veterans' Legion will be in session at Reading from the 13th to the 15 of this month and a great time is anticipated. Thousands of old soldiers will gather from all over the country and nearly all of the surviving celebrities of the war of the Rebellion will attend the encampment. The organization is composed exclusively of men who received an honorable discharge after the last three years' service during that war, and every man in its ranks has been a real fighter. Veterans and the public in general can purchase excursion tickets to Reading at any station or ticket office of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad at the rate of a single fare for the round trip. These tickets will be sold daily October 9th to 13th inclusive and will be good returning until Oct. 19th.

To Dance Before the Queen.

FOUR PRETTY AMERICANS TO ENTERTAIN HER MAJESTY WITH A MINUET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Fashionable circles in this city are much exercised as to the identity of four pretty American girls who have arrived in London to dance a minuet before the Queen.

Their chaperon refuses to give their names, but says they are well known in the best New York society. A picture, however, is printed in the October number of THE NEW YORK AND PARIS YOUNG LADIES' FASHION BAZAR, entitled "Pretty girls learning to dance the minuet," which gives some clew to their identity.

Society here also is interested in the fact that each of the four Americans is to wear a dress similar to the one illustrated and marked No. 8 in the colored plates of the magazine, which has partly revealed their personality and set fashionable circles agog.

The young ladies have been practicing the miuuet for eight months before venturing to ask the privilege, which has been granted, of dancing before Her Majesty.

THE NEW YORK AND PARIS YOUNG LADIES' FASHION BAZAR is for sale by all newsdealers. It will also be sent, postage prepaid, for 25 cents per single copy. The subscription price is $3.00 per year.

LORD KAMNES SAID,

"Men of the earliest times first saw the vices and diseases of the present times;" but they did not possess the moral restraints for one, or cures for the other, that we do. Scrofula and specific disease were incurable, unmitigated curses, until the Cactus Blood Cure came to neutralize and eradicate them by simply purifying the blood.

GEN. BOULANGER DEAD.

He Shoots Himself on Mme. De Bonnemain's Grave.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 30.—General Boulanger killed himself at noon to-day in the cemetery at Ixelles, a mile to the south of the city. His body was found on the tomb of Mme. de Bonnemains, who had accompanied him in his exile from France, and who had devoted her fortune of $1,500,000 to his career. The General's clenched right hand held a revolver. He had shot himself in the right temple, and the bullet had passed through his head.

Georges Ernest Jean Marie Boulanger, French ex-Minister of War, was born at Rennes, in Bretagne, in 1837. His descent on the maternal side is Welsh. His father was a country attorney. In 1855 Boulanger entered the Military College of St. Cyr, and was made sub-lieutenant in 1857. He served under Marshal Ranelon in the Kabyle campaign. He also took part in the Franco-Italian War, and was wounded in the battle of Turbigo.

He was with Marshal Bazaine at Metz, but escaped the fate of Bazaine's army, and made his way back to Paris. He was then promoted to a lieutenant-colonelcy by the Government of National Defense, and fought at Champigny (Nov. 30 to Dec. 2). In 1880 he became brigadier-general. Being appointed to the command of the army of occupation of Tunis, General Boulanger had a disagreement with M. Cambon, the Resident-General, and was recalled. He then held the War Office appointment of Director of the Infantry Division, and became Minister of War in 1886.

The Government having decided, in March, 1888, to cashier the General by placing him on the retired list, he inaugurated a vigorous campaign against the Ministry.

Vacancies shortly after occurred in the representation for the Bordogne and the Nord. He was returned for the Bordogne by 59,500 votes to 35,750 polled by the Opportunist candidate.

The General's appearance in the Chamber of Deputies, in July, 1888, to demand a dissolution of the Chamber, gave rise to a stormy scene. M. Floquet made a vigorous attack upon the General, and in the altercation between them Boulanger exclaimed "You lie." M. Floquet demanded satisfaction, and on July 13 a duel was fought. The General received a deep wound in the neck. The Patriotic League, of which he was the head, was subsequently suppressed, and the General was tried by the Senate on a charge of having, while War Minister, appropriated £10,000 of public money for purposes of his own propaganda. He was found guilty.

To avoid arrest, he first fled to Belgium, then to London, where he arrived April 24. The Mme. de Bonnemains, upon whose tomb he breathed his last, died in that city on July 16 last, after having accompanied General Boulanger in all his later wanderings.

In 1881 Boulanger was appointed Chief of the French Military Mission to the Yorktown Centennial of the United States, and created quite a favorable impression in this country.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE MARRIED.

She Becomes the Bride of a Brother of Oscar Wilde.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Frank Leslie was married at 9.30 o'clock yesterday evening by the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Deems, in the Church of the Strangers, to William K. Wilde, son of the late Sir William K. Wilde, the famous oculist and archæologist, and "Speranza," Ireland's gifted poetess.

The groom is the dramatic critic of the London Standard and is brother of Oscar Wilde.

Mr. Wilde and Mrs. Leslie attended the evening service in the church, I learn, and the ceremony of marriage was performed afterward in the parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cramer and Marshal P. Wilder were the only guests. The bride was attired in pearl gray cashmere, a Worth costume, with a satin skirt embroidered. She wore a hat of the same color, with lace. She also wore diamonds. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to Delmonico's, where a wedding dinner was served.

Mr. and Mr. Wilde have apartments at the Gerlach. They leave tomorrow night for Niagara Falls and the West.

EIGHT INSTANTLY KILLED.

Frightful Result of a Tug Boiler Explosion in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Eight persons were instantly killed and many others seriously injured at 4.30 this afternoon by a boiler explosion on the tug C. W. Parker.

Four tugs, one of which was the Parker, were engaged at the Archer avenue bridge, on the south branch of the river, in trying to pull the coal steamer H. S. Pickards out of the draw. A large number of people were standing on the bank watching the operation, and the most of the victims were among these. Only three of the seven killed were on board the tug.

The steamer had run aground and was still stuck fast when the explosion occurred.

The known dead are: Samuel Cooper, switchman for the Illinois Steel Company; Mrs. Rice, Barbara Rice, Bartholomew Curtin, aged ten; an unknown man; J. C. Moore, engineer; James B. Carter, captain, and Samuel Armstrong, steward, all of the tug Parker. The bodies of the last three were not recovered from the river.

Nine Negroes Lynched.

TRAIN ROBBERY AT UTICA.

One Lone Robber Held Up Express Messenger Moore.

UTICA, Sept. 30.—The American Express train, bound for Chicago over the Central Railroad, which left the Grand Central Station, in New York, at 8:30 o'clock last evening, was held up and robbed last night, according to Express Messenger Moore's story, by one masked man, between this city and Little Falls. The train was No. 31, and was made up of six cars.

At 1 o'clock in the morning Messenger Moore of Buffalo, suddenly saw a masked man standing over him with two revolvers pointed at his head. The robbers only words with Moore were: "It's money I'm after, you——; we're coming into Utica."

Moore was taken by surprise, and, as the robber had taken his revolver, had to give up the key of the safe. Moore says that when the robber secured his revolver he fired three times, none of the bullets hitting Moore, however. The robber ransacked the safe, taking those packages he thought contained valuables. The messenger managed to thrust a $5,000 money package behind the safe, which the robber did not find. Packages containing jewelry and other valuables were taken. When the fellow was ready, he gave a signal to the engineer to slow down. He gave another signal for the train to go ahead, and then jumped and started in a northerly direction. The exact amount of money taken by the robber is not known, but from the nature of the packages the express company say that it is less than $1,000.

A THIRD BANK GOES DOWN.

Phillipsburg Bank Swept Under By Clearfield and Houtzdale Failures.

PHILLIPSBURG, Pa., Oct. 6.—This community was greatly excited to-day by the following announcement which was posted on the doors of the Phillipsburg Bank, supposed to be the one of the strongest private institutions in this part of the State:

OCT. 5, 1891.

The continued demand of our depositors is greater than we can meet at once. We deem it best for all their interests to suspend payment and liquidate our affairs. We firmly believe we can pay every depositor in full.

O. PERRY JONES, Cashier.

Ever since the Clearfield Bank closed and the Houtzdale Bank failed the Phillipsburg institution has experienced an unprecedented run. The miners and their friends became alarmed and began a run, steadily withdrawing their deposits of $500 to $1,000, and many thousands of dollars were thus paid out during the last three days. Then the heavy depositors took fright and began a quiet checking of their balances, which resulted in the announcement to-day.

The effect of closing the Phillipsburg Bank can hardly be estimated. This city lies close to Houtzdale, while Clearfield is not far away, and as all depend for their prosperity largely upon mining and lumber, the panic cannot be fully measured. It is feared that many individuals will go down in the crash that seems imminent here.

IS DR. BRIGGS A HERETIC?

The New York Presbytery Decides By a Vote of 64 to 62 to Try Him.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The members of the New York Presbytery decided yesterday by the scant majority of two to go on with the trial of Prof. Charles A. Briggs of the Union Theological Seminary. The charge against Dr. Briggs is that he does not agree with other members of the church to which he belongs in his interpretation of certain portions of the Scripture.

His views are of the most liberal character, and in an address delivered upon the occasion of his induction into the Edward Robinson Chair of Theology in Union Theological Seminary last January he delivered an inaugural address in which he said many things that gave offense to his fellow-churchman.

The Presbytery at its last session appointed a committee to prepare charges against him. Their report came up yesterday, and Dr. Brigg's friends succeeded in getting the matter in such shape as to very nearly defeat the purpose of those who want to try the case on what they deem its merits.

After the charges and specifications had been read a very stormy time followed, and the decision to proceed with the trial was only carried by a vote of 64 to 62.

MASSACRED BY INDIANS.

A Story That 200 White People Have Been Killed in Mexico.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 4.—John H. Parton, an American, who for two years has been engaged in the mining business in the State of Hidalgo, Mex., arrived here to-day, and brings information of an Indian outbreak in the district of Tulamengo in that State. The trouble is an outgrowth of a dispute between several colonies of Spaniards and Germans and the Indians, the new settlers attempting to settle on the lands of the natives.

Mr. Parton says that a few days before his departure a settlement of whites was attacked by Indians, and nearly 200 people massacred, including men, women, and children.

A Dozen Townships Devastated.

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., Oct. 5.—Reports are coming in of the hurricane in the northern pineries. Twelve to fifteen townships have been devastated and the loss of timber will foot up hundreds of millions of feet. Settlers who escaped are coming out, their timber claims being valueless. Several surveyors' crews are still unheard from.

Four lives were lost in a tenement house fire at Hudson and Dominick streets, New York, Monday morning.

A COLD BLOODED BRUTE.

How Ismail Pasha Amused Himself on One Occasion.

When Ishmail Pasha, the extravagant khedive of Egypt, reigned over that historical land," said an acquaintance of the notorious ruler, "he had in his garden a large cage of African lions. Noble brutes they were, and until the event of which I speak I never tired of looking at them. One day while walking with his highness in the garden the keeper, accompanied by a pretty little girl, entered, carrying a basket of meat for the lions. The khedive and I walked toward the cage to see the beasts eat. They were hungry and pounced upon their food with a ravenous fury that chilled me. Standing close by the stage with her hands resting on the bars was the little child, her long golden hair at times blown by the breeze inside the inclosure.

"'Why do you permit your daughter to go so near the lions?' the khedive asked of the keeper.

"'Oh,' replied the keeper, 'they are so accustomed to her they would not harm her.'

"'Then open the door and put her inside,' said the khedive.

"My blood froze at the command, for command it was. I tried to speak, but could not. I was unable even to move. The keeper, with the submissiveness of those who know their lives will pay forfeit if they disobey, made with his eyes a plea for mercy. But seeing none in the khedive's face he kissed the little one tenderly, lifted her up, opened the door, placed her inside, and as the door swung to he turned his face away and groaned. The little one, though she did not stir, was not afraid. The lions appeared surprised, and as the largest and fiercest rose and walked toward her I thought I should choke. Happily the father did not see the beast. The khedive alone was unmoved and stood gazing at the scene calmly and with the curious smile I had so often seen play upon his features when watching the dance of a ballet. The lion went up to the child, smelled of her, looked at her for fully a half a minute, then lay down at her feet and beat the floor with his tail. Another lion approached. The first one gave an ominous growl and the second lion went back. The others crouched low and each second I expected them to spring, but they did not. This continued I think about five minutes, the big lion never taking his eyes from the girl and ceaselessly lashing the floor.

The khedive by this time was evidently satisfied and turned to the keeper and commanded him to thrust a live lamb into the cage through another door. With celerity I have never seen equaled the keeper caught a straying lamb and obeyed. As he did so every lion sprang upon the lamb.

"'Take out the child!' the khedive commanded, and scarce had the words escaped him ere the keeper, who had already run to that end of the cage, jerked open the door, snatched the little one out, and clasped her in his arms. The khedive laughed, tossed the keeper a coin, and, taking my arm, walked on."—Chicago Post.

Moltke's First Love.

Moltke's first love was not the wife at whose tomb he passed the summer nights of his last 20 years at Creisan. His first love was the beautiful daughter of General von Bulow, commandant of the fortress of Custrin in the days of Moltke's lieutenancy. Her name was Hippolyta. She returned Moltke's love, and they were together as frequently as propriety and Father von Bulow would permit. For her sake Moltke took up dancing, an amusement for which he had neither taste nor talent, and which, after leaving her, he gave up in his endeavor to put aside all associations of his crushing disappointment. The parting of the young lovers was due to the interference of the father, who was convinced by Moltke's personal appearance that he was consumptive and doomed to an early death. Moltke left, and only after 12 years' wandering in foreign lands sought the society of other women. Hippolyta married a Pomeranian lord and died 15 years before the man, the years of whose life had been numbered by her father.

It Worked.

He was such a looking man as might easily be expected to be able to put up at a respectable second class hotel, and when he went into one down town the clerk met him pleasantly.

"Have you any quarters here you could accommodate a man with at this time of night?" he inquired, as he laid a paper bundle on the counter and reached for the register.

"I regret to say, sir," said the clerk, "that we have not. The house is full."

The visitor turned half away, then stopped and thrummed on the counter for a second, thoughtfully.

"No quarters," he said, as if speaking to himself. "That's bad, and every place else shut up."

"Yes, it is," sympathized the clerk; "but we can't help it. We haven't got any."

"So I understood you; but say, old man," he said, bending over the counter, "if you've got no quarters mebbe you've got a couple of nickels. They'll do to tide me over a drouth."

It worked, and he went out pleasantly, almost cheerfully.—Free Press.

ULSTER COUNTY SAVINGS BANK RUINED BY TREASURER OSTRANDER.

Startling Result of the Bank Examiner's Investigation—Ostrander Surrrendered and His Assistant Arrested—Great Excitement at Kingston.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Assistant Treasurer Trumpbour of the Ulster County Savings Institution has joined his chief in jail. The bank has closed its doors, and Bank Superintendent Charles M. Preston is in charge. The examination of the treasurer's books has, so far, revealed a shortage of $463,000. This news startled this city to-day. It was not unexpected, though the extent of the shortage was far greater than at first supposed.

Treasurer James L. Ostrander was arrested about two weeks ago, charged with embezzling $75,000, and was under bonds of $20,000.

The arrest caused a three days' run, which threatened to drive the institution to the wall. But other banks came to the rescue. The trustees made a statement showing that there was a surplus of $247,000. This statement, being signed by such well known men as Judge Alton B. Parker, General George H. Sharpe, Judge William S. Kenyon, Postmaster Noah Wolven, John W. Searing, and other reputable citizens, had a reassuring effect, and those who had drawn out their money brought it back.

Since Tuesday experts have been at work examining the books under the direction of Bank Superintendent Charles M. Preston. When they reported late last night the discovery of shortages amounting to $463,000, with a possibility of the deficit reaching $500,000, Mr. Preston took immediate action. At midnight he swore out a warrant for the arrest of Assistant Treasurer Matthew T. Trumpbour. The charge was perjury in swearing to false statements in the July report of the bank to the Banking Department. Trumpbour was arrested by Chief of Police Hood. He had his clothes all packed up, and was preparing to flee from town. He was locked up in jail.

In the meantime an inkling of the state of affairs had reached Ostrander's bondsmen. They brought the Treasurer to the jail and surrendered him to Sheriff Dill. There seems to be no doubt that the two men worked together, at least in concealing their stealing.

The majority of the depositors in the Ulster County institution are poor people, many of them old men and women, wholly dependent on the interest on the few thousands of dollars they had in the bank, and such men and women, with tears in their eyes, can be seen everywhere about the city, fearing the loss of their savings.

Ostrander is sixty years old. He has been Treasurer of the institution for a quarter of a century. Prior to that time he was cashier of the First National Bank of Kingston, and was at one time cashier of a bank at Prattsville. He was also connected with the State Banking Department. It is believed he spent the stolen money in extravagant living.

GROVER CLEVELAND A FATHER.

Mrs. Cleveland Presents the Ex-President With a Daughter.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Grover Cleveland became the mother of a strong, healthy girl baby yesterday morning shortly after midnight. Dr. J. D. Bryant of 54 West Thirty-sixth street, was in attendance. Both mother and child are doing well.

The important news did not become known down town yesterday until nearly noon. Then it spread with the utmost rapidity, both in the city and to other parts of the country. During the afternoon many flowers were sent in to Mrs. Cleveland, and both father and mother received hearty congratulations. Then messenger boys began to move up the avenue with telegraphic messages from all parts of the country.

Among the first telegrams received, within three hours of making the news public, were messages from Don M. Dickinson and W. C. Quinby, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. A. Knott of Baltimore, A. J. Drexel of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder of Marion, Mass.

ATCHISON, Kan., Oct. 3.—The Democratic County Convention this afternoon sent the following telegram to Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland:

"The Democracy of Atchison County, in convention assembled, congratulate you upon the birth of your daughter."

JAY GOULD A SICK MAN.

His Physician Says He is Suffering From Nervous Prostration.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The most startling piece of news in Wall street yesterday was that Jay Gould has broken down physically. His son George, Russell Sage and the other men who are near to him in his busines and social relations all admit that the little financier is a very sick man. To this purely personal testimony is added the professional testimony of Dr. Munn, who says that Mr. Gould is suffering from nervous prostration, and that he must remain very quiet if he has any regard for his health.

The news in regard to Mr. Gould's health caused not a little excitement in the street and resulted in something of a flurry in stocks.

Six Still in the Mine.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 4.—The bodies of six of the men buried in the Richardson colliery yesterday by a fall of coal are still in the mine. It is believed that they are all dead. Of those rescued yesterday, Winfield Mack is dead and Michael Grant will die.

The six men entombed are Thomas Claney, John Lawler, James Simmons, Michael Welsh, John Purcell and John Cusick.

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectually eradicated only by the use of powerful alteratives. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alteratives.

"I consider that I have been

several hundred dollars' expense, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and would strongly urge all who are troubled with lameness or rheumatic pains to give it a trial. I am sure it will do them permanent good, as it has done me."—Mrs. Joseph Wood, West Plattsburgh, N. Y.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and about a dozen bottles, was restored to perfect health—weighing 230 pounds—and am now a believer in the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—James Petsy, Mine Boss, Breckenridge Coal Co. (Limited), Victoria, Ky.

By Taking

"My niece, Sarah A. Losee, was for years afflicted with scrofulous humor in the blood. About 18 months ago she began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles was completely cured."—E. Caffall, P. M., Losee, Utah.

'Tis part of the finest lot of sweepers ever put out by the Bissell Co., and you can have your choice among six styles of these special finishes at the price of the regular sweeper.

The stock will not last long. If you want one for a present or for yourself, 'tis the chance of the year.

Bissell's Grand Rapids is is the most famous of all the Bissells, and the Bissell's are the greatest carpet sweepers in the world. For sale by S. F. Peacock & Co., Bloomsburg.

What is
CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

ANOTHER REBELLION.

UPRISING IN GUATEMALA AGAINST THE DICTATOR, BARILLAS.

Terrible Scenes in the Capital of the Republic—Five Hundred Killed in a Three Days' Battle—Barillas Suppresses the Revolt in Short Order.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 29.—According to the story of a man who reached this city on horseback from Acapulco, a revolt of the people of Guatemala City against the Government of President Barillas broke out on Sept. 15.

He says that when he left Guatemala on Sept. 16 the fighting was still in progress. The people protested against the appointment by Barillas of orators for their National holiday, which occurred on the 15th, and the mob stoned the speakers, chasing them across the plaza and crying, "Down with despotism and tyranny! Down with Barillas!"

Members of the mob shouted: "Let's storm the national palace, kill Barillas and restore a republican form of government." "Guatemala shall not be ruled by a dictator." "Plundering of the national treasury must cease."

The traveler says that Barillas ordered a battalion of infantry to disperse the mob, but the soldiers were put to flight, leaving many dead and wounded in the plaza. Finally a battery of artillery dispersed the mob, which retired into the side streets and remained aggressive all that night.

Dispatches from Newton, on the line between Guatemala and Mexico, confirm the story, and say that after two days of hard fighting and the loss of 500 lives Barillas put down the revolt and declared himself Dictator.

The palace and residence of President Barillas are guarded by both infantry and artillery. Barillas does not stir abroad unless guarded by a large force of cavalry.

Later dispatches state that a riot has occurred at Quezaltenaugo, in which a revolutionary leader is supported by 1,000 men.

GOV. RUSSELL RENOMINATED.

Massachusetts Democrats Name Their State Ticket.

WORCESTER, Sept. 29.—Governor William E. Russell was renominated here by the State Democratic Covention to-day. The ticket was completed with John W. Corcoran for Lieutenant-Governor, Elbridge G. Cushman for Secretary of State, James S. Grinnell for State Treasurer, W. D. T. Trefoy of Marblehead for Auditor and George M. Stearns for Attorney-General.

The platform, so far as it relates to National issues, is for tariff reform, denounced the "free and unlimited coinage of silver," and the dangerous silver legislation of the last Congress. Governor Russell, is accepting the nomination, declared for tariff revision and reduction, protested against the free coinage of silver, and was strong in his denunciation of the disregard of Civil Service principles by the Republican party.

UNION PACIFIC SAVED.

The Floating Debt Relief Plan Put Into Operation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A meeting of the committee appointed to take care of the Union Pacific Railway Company's floating debt was held in Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s office yesterday morning. At the last meeting held on Saturday, $4,500,000 of the $5,500,000 required to take up the debt had been subscribed. Jay Gould's name headed the list for $1,000,000. Russell Sage also subscribed $500,000.

It was announced after the meeting yesterday that $6,000,000 had been subscribed, $500,000 more than was necessary. The plan was accordingly declared to be operative.
